In an interview with the Belgian newspaper, the CEO of Befimmo confirmed the strategy of pure office player. He believes that it's the shareholder's role to diversify and not the company's. As such, Befimmo will continue to invest in the sector in which it has a long experience and will be patient until momentum gets positive again. Also the specificity of some buildings acquired by competitors is not their cup of tea while they will remain focused on property deals (>< financing deals). By buying back shares, management intends to provide confidence to shareholders.
